I will welcome an opportunity to network with other authors and researchers about the world-wide epidemic of workplace bullying. I would also like to learn more about the research of others in humiliation studies. I hope to become involved in World Dignity University in any way possible.

I would be willing to present to any size group about my area of specialty and my research topic: Workplace Bullying. I would also be willing to host and/or facilitate an informal discussion group about this issues.

Dignity means respect and tolerance for others whether those others are like us or not. It includes treating others as we would like to be treated and embracing diversity. Dignity includes compassion for those who have not been as fortunate as we have been. Finally, dignity means freedom from fear of humiliation, degradation, harassment, and discrimination.

You!
