Indore, Madhya Pradesh, India
(NewsVair)

With everything that has been happening around the globe at present, be it the pandemic, the climate change crisis, casteism, racism, economic downfall, it has become important to realise that there are certain things that we need to re-learn. The wheels of the normative grain of the society need to be broken and reconstructed, the 'new normal' has given us an opportunity to start afresh and there is no better place to do that than our educational institutions. Sri Sathya Sai Vidya Vihar, Indore recently organised its first edition of "SRIJAN", an e-Conclave dedicated to and aimed at renewing the idea of education beyond the realm of subjects and concrete school walls.
